

The Wilderness Center Nature Photo Club

The Wilderness Center Nature Photo Club met informally at the Amish Door on February 27, 2021, at 11 a.m.

President Mark Archibald reported that the bulletin board at The Wilderness Center is scheduled through June and there are still some openings after that. He also reminded members that it's time to pay their dues.

Paul Keske and Jack Perry's submissions tied for first place.

Program

Mark Archibald presented a program titled "Backyard Bird Photography and More!" in which he shared techniques to capture the best bird images you can in your own backyard, with many wonderful examples of his images using those techniques.

Next meeting

The next informal meeting will be March 27, 2021, at the Amish Door at 11 a.m. The photo topic will be "Black and White." Dan and Suzie Lux will present the program on the waterfalls at Rickett's Glenn.

Respectfully submitted,
Bryan Leaman, Secretary
